Geotope 65: Nölbling Creek – Canyoning

Red arrow: target; green tracks: hiking trails; ©BEV: Federal Office for Calibration and Measurement, 2005.

Access:

In the small village of Unternölbling the road had to be followed towards south to the bridge at the end of Nölbling Creek.

Description of the Geotope

A geological description of the Nölbling Creek is provided at Geotope 13.

Canyoning can not only be practiced in the lower Nölbling Creek where limestones occur but also in the Vorderberg, Weißenbach, Garnitzen and Mauthen Gorges and the Stranig Creek. Guided tours are offered by:

- Fit und Fun (Mag. Peter Unterluggauer, email: info@fitundfun-outdoor.com),
